

SIDE F

MARK.

Maybe no one will remember me when I'm dead,
but how will people remember YOU when you're dead.

What's the first thing that people will think when they hear your name years from now?

What do you think? What do you really think?

If you were gonna put money on it.

Will they remember you for the work you did for this country?

Will they remember—will they be able to say, oh, Bill Clinton, yeah, he's that great president who did this or that to trade policies.
Bill Clinton—who balanced the budget—will they say that?

"Don't ask don't tell"?

You'd probably prefer people forget that.

But at least that's something presidential.

But you know—you know—that's not what they'll remember you for.

They'll remember you for fucking around.

They'll remember you for the most stupid embarrassing—simply reckless set of circumstances.

that almost got you kicked out of the job ~~and jeopardized~~

~~(A phone rings.)~~

~~HILLARY.~~

~~hold that thought.~~

~~(Hillary picks up.)~~

~~Hello?~~

~~oh~~

~~okay~~

~~yeah, no now's not the best time—~~

~~no~~
